

Gossip Jar – Game Instruction

Title: Gossip Jar

Category: Indoor

Subcategory: Females

Players: 3 or more

Time Required: 15–20 Minutes

Description

Gossip Jar is a fun and interactive game where players anonymously write and share gossip, stories, or facts in a jar. Everyone takes turns reading them out loud and guessing who wrote what. It's perfect for bonding, laughter, and a few surprises.

Materials Needed

- Small slips of paper
 - Pens or pencils
 - A jar, bowl, or container

How to Play

Setup:

- Give each player a few small slips of paper and a pen.
- Ask them to write something – it can be funny gossip, a real event, or a made-up secret.

Instructions:

- Fold each slip and place them into a jar anonymously.
- One at a time, players take turns pulling a slip from the jar and reading it aloud.
- The group tries to guess who wrote the slip.
- After guessing, the writer can reveal themselves for a laugh.

Winning:

This game is more about fun and interaction than winning, but you can add a point system for correct guesses if desired.

Tips & Variations

- Set themes like “celebrity gossip,” “childhood memories,” or “school drama.”
- Award points for correct guesses to increase competitiveness.
- Use the game to spark deeper conversation or bonding in a relaxed setting.
- Make it silly, but keep it respectful and light-hearted.
