How to Play

Setup:

Draw a 3x3 grid on a piece of paper. One player is "X", and the other is "O".

Objective:

To be the first player to get three of your marks in a row (horizontally, vertically, or diagonally).

Rules:

- Players take turns placing their mark (X or O) in one empty square of the grid.
- Once placed, a mark cannot be moved.
- The first player to align three marks wins.
- If all squares are filled without a winner, the game ends in a draw.

Winning:

The game is won by forming a straight line of three Xs or Os. You can play multiple rounds and keep score.

Tips & Variations

- Try a 4x4 or 5x5 grid for a harder version.
- Use a whiteboard or chalkboard for reusable fun.
- Teach children about blocking moves and planning ahead.
- Play in teams where teammates vote on each move.
